

Stocks & Shares ISA

Key Features

Aims, commitments and risks

Before you open a OneFamily Stocks and Shares ISA, it's important that you understand that there is a degree of risk involved. This document explains the risks of investing in this type of ISA and what you're committing to.

If you're not sure if OneFamily's Stocks and Shares ISA is right for you, we recommend you speak to someone who can explain your options, such as a qualified financial adviser.

Its aims

- Invest and grow your money in a tax efficient way in your choice of fund
- Allow you to choose which fund you'd like to invest in, so you can decide how much risk you're comfortable taking with your money
- Provide a death benefit under the policy within a OneFamily ISA. The amount payable on death is 101% of the value of the units held within your ISA. See section 15.6 of the Terms and Conditions for more information

Your commitment

To get the best out of your Stocks and Shares ISA, you will need to commit to:

- Open it with a minimum Direct Debit or lump sum payment (please see "How much can I pay in?" in the Questions and answers section for more details)
- Retain an account balance of, or above, the minimum allowed (If a minimum balance is not retained, we may close your ISA and return the money to you)
- Ensure your payments do not exceed the maximum allowed by the Government ISA limits each tax year. Limits for the current Tax Year can be located here on the HMRC website gov.uk/individual-savings-accounts
- Agree for us to take a charge for managing your account and the investments contained within
- Regularly review your account to ensure it is still relevant for you and your circumstances
- Ensure you keep us informed of any material change to your personal details or circumstance

Questions and answers

Risks

- The value of your investment is not guaranteed; it could fall as well as rise. This could mean that you lose some or all of the money in your account
- The fund you choose will have specific risks – you should refer to the Key Information Document (KID) for the fund found here onefamily.com/fundinfo
- If your investments grow less than inflation, the buying power of your money could reduce over time
- This investment is designed for the medium to long-term and shouldn't be used as a substitute for short-term emergency savings
- Tax rules may change over time, and the amount you can pay into your ISA, and the amount of tax you pay on growth, could also change

Is this product right for me?

As this product invests in an element of stocks and shares, you will need to be comfortable taking a degree of risk with your money in return for higher growth potential.

If you have any doubts about whether this product is right for you, then you should contact a qualified financial adviser.

Who can open a OneFamily Stocks and Shares ISA?

You can open a OneFamily Stocks and Shares ISA if you are:

- At least 18 years old
- Resident (and ordinarily resident) in the UK for tax purposes. If you're not sure please visit gov.uk/individual-savings-accounts
- Not a US citizen (including dual nationals)

How can I pay into my ISA?

You can make payments by monthly direct debit, or lump sum payments by debit card.

You may also be able to transfer into your ISA from an ISA, Matured Child Trust Fund or Matured Junior ISA, held with us or another provider (please check our website for transfer options available).

Payments will take time to clear and invest in your fund, for details of these timescales see the Terms and Conditions.

How much can I pay in?

You can start your ISA with a £25 per month direct debit, or a lump sum of £250. Once your account is open, you can add to it from as little as £25.

You can pay in up to the annual allowance set by the Government for ISAs. You can view allowances for the current tax year on the HMRC website.

An oversubscription could lead to the ISA becoming void. See section 14.7 of the Terms and Conditions for more information.

We also need you to retain a minimum balance of £250 in your ISA account.

Will I pay tax on growth?

No. As this account is an ISA, growth is free from Income and Capital Gains Tax.

What happens if I die?

There is a death benefit under your policy within a OneFamily ISA, which will be paid to your estate. The amount payable on death is 101% of the value of the units held within your ISA. See section 15.6 of the Terms and Conditions for more information.

Will you charge me for looking after my ISA?

Yes. We have tried to keep this simple and transparent with a single charge that reflects the cost of managing your account and funds.

This will take the form of an Annual Management Charge which will be a percentage of your investment value. This charge may vary by fund. You can find details of these charges in the Key Information Document for the fund you are invested in.

How will my ISA be invested?

We will provide a simple choice of funds when you set up your ISA. The choice you will need to make will be based on your attitude towards risk – lower risk funds will have lower stocks and shares content, whilst higher risk funds will be invested up to 100% in stocks and shares.

For more information on the fund options see our website and the Key Information Documents for each fund available.

What is a unit-linked life fund?

Each of our unit-linked funds are linked to a policy issued by OneFamily. When you invest in the ISA, your money is combined with that of other investors to buy assets which are held by the fund. The fund is divided into units of equal value which are allocated to the customers to reflect their share of the fund's assets. The number of units you get depends on how much you invest and the price of the units at the time you buy. Funds are designed with specific objectives in mind and so each one will invest in different ways. It's important to remember that the performance of investment funds is not guaranteed. This means that the value of your investment can fall as well as rise.

Can I switch funds if I am not happy with the fund I have chosen?

Yes, you can switch your money between funds, subject to the available fund options at the time of the switch. A fund switch will move all of your available units into the new fund. You can only invest in one fund at a time.

We will not charge you for this.

Can I transfer products held with another provider to the OneFamily ISA?

Yes, you may be able to transfer another provider's ISA or Matured Child Trust Fund to us, please see our website, or contact us, for available transfer options.

Can I transfer my OneFamily ISA to another provider's ISA?

Yes, you can transfer your ISA to another provider at any time and we won't charge you to do so. Please check with the new provider to find out if they charge for transfers in. Please note that you will lose the Death Benefit on the ISA. The new provider may not provide a Death Benefit on your new ISA.

How can I keep up to date with my account?

You can check the value of your ISA, see fund performance and make changes to regular payments at any time via your online account.

We also upload quarterly statements to your online account and will email you when these are available.

It is important that you make sure your details (especially your email address) are kept up to date so we can continue to provide you with this service.

Can I withdraw my money?

You can withdraw some, or all of your money, at any time.

If you would like to move your ISA to an ISA with another provider, we recommend you contact the new provider to start the transfer process.

Can I change my mind?

Yes. Once we have accepted your application and your first contribution, you will have 30 days to cancel your account.

If you cancel after your money has already been invested in a fund, the money refunded to you could be less than you paid in if there's been an investment loss.

If we don't have details of where to return your money (e.g. a bank account), there may be a delay in returning your money to you.
