Risk and Reward Profile

1	2	3	4	5	6	7

The Risk and Reward Indicator is designed to give you a guide to the fund's level of risk and potential for growth. The higher the number, the greater the potential for growth but the greater the risk of losing money.

The indicator is based upon the rate at which the value of the fund has moved up and down in the past and is calculated using a method set out in European Union rules. The lowest category does not mean 'risk-free'.

The shaded area in the table above shows the fund's category on the Risk and Reward Indicator.

The fund has a category of 5 because it has experienced medium to high rises and falls in the past.

You should note that the fund's risk category is not guaranteed to remain the same so may change in the future; the category is based on past data and this may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the fund.

Other risks:

The indicator does not take into account the following risks of investing in this fund:

- The fund carries out ethical screening when selecting investments which means it cannot invest in certain sectors and companies. This could mean the fund carries greater risk than a fund which has no such restrictions
- The fund may use derivatives for Efficient Portfolio Management (e.g. attempting to reduce the risk or cost of the fund, or generate additional income or capital). The use of derivatives to increase or reduce the fund's exposure to the underlying stock market index may not achieve the described outcomes and this could result in greater fluctuations of the value of the fund. However, it is not intended that this will cause the risk profile of the fund to change
- It is possible to get back less than has been invested.
